

Who Has More (ten-frame cards from 1-10)

Played like “War”. Each child gets 10 cards. Each player turns over the top card on their deck at the same time and each player says the number on the card. The player with the greatest value wins and takes both cards. Unlike war, in the event of a tie, only one more card is played and the person with the highest value gets all four cards. Once all cards have been played, each player counts the number of cards she has.
