

Creating a Flocabulary Account

What is Flocabulary? Flocabulary is an online library of educational hip-hop songs and videos for grades k-12. Flocabulary is aligned with Common Core standards and is another great way to engage students.

1. Go to: <http://flocabulary.com/access-group-activation/anoka-hennepin-public-school-dist-2>

Flocabulary Songs & Videos How to Use About Plans & Pricing

Welcome to Flocabulary

Your school has signed up for a subscription to Flocabulary, an online library of educational hip-hop songs and videos.

Please enter your email address to activate your account.

If your school purchased student access, you will receive student login information after activating your teacher account.

Enjoy!

2. Enter in your first.last@anoka.k12.mn.us email address.
3. Press Continue.

Flocabulary Activation

You're almost there! Complete the form to the right to finish the activation process.

4. Enter your first and last name and create a password
5. Enter your role (most of you will select teacher)
6. Your subject and grade level interest will likely impact what content will be shown. I would probably recommend selecting a wider range if you teach a wider range of students.
7. Press Continue.

From that point on, logging in is as simple as going to flocabulary.com and entering in your username and password by clicking the login button on the upper right corner.

First name*

Last name*

steven.simons@anoka.k12.mn.us

Create password*

How Would You Describe Yourself? ▾

What subjects are you interested in?

All ELA Math Science

Social Studies

What grades are you interested in?

All K-3 4-5 6-8 9-12

CONTINUE

*If you want students to view the videos and do the activities on their own, here is the login information:

Username: ahstudent12

Password: ss2012

If you have any requests for content, feel free to email: brett@flocabulary.com